

Weill Cornell
Medicine

- ✓ Stipend
- ✓ On-campus housing
- ✓ New York City

52 Years of Excellence

2020

Travelers Summer Research Fellowship Program for Premedical Students

Application Deadline:
February 1, 2020

TRAVELERS

Eligibility

- At least in their junior year of college
- A declared premed student
- Have demonstrated commitment to working on issues with underserved populations in the U.S.
- Be from underrepresented populations in medicine
- Be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident

Overview

- Cardiovascular physiology seminars Career development series
- Public health seminars
- Conduct research in clinical or basic sciences
- Travel expenses for non-local residents

Outcomes

- Over 80% of alumni have enrolled in medical school 90% have graduated
- Alumni are in top leadership and policymaking positions nationally
- Enhanced participants' knowledge and skills
- Exposed students to different fields in medicine

Quotes from Alumni

"problem-based learning session was a great preview to the medical school learning experience"

"learning more about healthcare disparities motivates me to become a physician"

"I was ready to quit, until TSRF gave me another chance, gave me mentors, gave me friends, and gave me lifelong connections to pursue my dream of becoming a doctor. I was ready to quit, but the TSRF family told me I was more than capable. The TSRF family told me I belonged. "

Spend Your Summer Conducting Research in New York City

Learn more at https://weill.cornell.edu/education/programs/tra_sum_res.html